SUBJECT: (U) Summary of the Reengagement of Detainees Formerly Held at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba

Section 506I(a)(2) An assessment of the likelihood that current and former detainees will engage in terrorism.

Based on trends identified during the past 20 years, we assess that some detainees currently at GTMO will seek to reengage in terrorist or insurgent activities after they are transferred. Transfers to countries with ongoing conflicts and internal instability as well as recruitment by insurgent and terrorist organizations could pose an increased risk of reengagement. While enforcement of transfer conditions probably has deterred many former detainees from reengagement, some detainees determined to reengage have and will do so regardless of any transfer conditions, albeit at a lower rate than if they were transferred without conditions.

Section 506I(a)(2) An assessment of the likelihood that such detainees will communicate with persons in terrorist organizations.

Former GTMO detainees routinely communicate with each other, families of other former detainees, and members of terrorist organizations. The reasons for communication span from the mundane (reminiscing about shared experiences) to the nefarious (planning terrorist operations). We assess that some GTMO detainees to be transferred in the future probably would communicate with other former GTMO detainees and persons in terrorist organizations. We do not consider mere communication with individuals or organizations—including other former GTMO detainees—an indicator of reengagement. Rather, the motives, intentions, and purposes of each communication are taken into account when assessing whether the individual has reengaged.

Definitions

Terrorist Activity: Activities such as the following indicate involvement in terrorist activities: active membership in a terrorist organization, leading or planning terrorist operations, conducting a terrorist or insurgent attack, financing terrorist operations, recruiting terrorists, or facilitating the movement of individuals or materiel for terrorist operation. It does not include mere communications with individuals or organizations—including other former GTMO detainees—on issues unrelated to terrorist operations, such as reminiscing about shared experiences at GTMO, communicating with past terrorist associates about non-nefarious activities, writing anti-U.S. books or articles, or making anti-U.S. propaganda statements.

Confirmed Activities: A preponderance of information—biometrics (fingerprints, conclusive photographic match, or other similar information) and/or reliable, verified, or well-corroborated intelligence reporting—that identifies a specific former GTMO detainee as being directly involved in terrorist activities. For the purposes of this definition, engagement in anti-U.S. statements or propaganda does not qualify as terrorist activity.

Suspected Activities: Plausible, but unverified, or single-source reporting that indicates a specific former GTMO detainee is directly involved in terrorist activities. For the purposes of this definition, engagement in anti-U.S. statements or propaganda does not qualify as terrorist activity.
